From Our Chairman:

Is it too late to say "Happy New Year"? I trust it is not; for each New Year brings new hope and new beginnings that we, at the CPC, are thrilled about!

Every day that babies are born is a great day! To achieve this aim we have wonderful partners, such as you; and we look forward to the many new folks (individuals, churches & businesses) that will come along side of us in 2010 to help us in this great cause. Our desire is to create community awareness so that when a teen or woman finds herself with an unplanned pregnancy - CPC will come to mind. If we can get them into our doors, we can help them make decisions which will affect a life and that they can live with for a lifetime.

We are partnering with a local pastor that desires to see CPC obtain its own building - free & clear! So please pray that God will bring this dream to fruition (will keep you posted).

I hope that you will attend/or be part of some of our fundraisers this year-they are always a blast. They supplement individual, business & church donations, so I do hope you will take part. We will be selling cards that businesses are participating in giving you "free stuff" or percentages off of items/ services. Who doesn't like that! Filling our Baby Bottles with loose change throughout the year is a wonderful way to support CPC in meeting financial obligations-call us and we'll make sure you get some bottles to toss your change into. Our Gala (dinner/dance) will be on Saturday, 9/11 this year....hmmm 9/11, you say? Yes! Because what better way to remember over 3,000 lost lives than to celebrate the Life that God has bestowed upon mankind in furthering justice for the unborn.

We want you to get to know us; therefore, every newsletter will feature either a volunteer, Board member and perhaps, even a donor or Client (given permission of course!) or Audra, CPC's executive Director (you'll get to finally see what she looks like).

So as you can see, 2010 is going to be an exciting ride! There is much to accomplish & I hope that you will join us on this wonderful adventure - Renee Ayala Jones
